I'm Shary: wife to a wonderfully bearded man and mother to two energetic children. I'm a late-twenties girl just trying to live life one day at a time.

I enjoy several hobbies that include sewing, gaming, and baking.

Atta Mama is look inside things I enjoy with my family, whether it be products that help us live more conveniently, travels that help us connect, or simple joys that keep us sane while living in the now.

As a whole my blog is just a way to record our adventures so that I can look back and say,

You did it! Atta Mama!"
